10 Silly Habits You Might Have

1. Not preparing for worship in any way other than appearances and looks.
2. Arriving late for, or at least, “just in time” for worship, as if God is pleased with us just getting there.
3. Filling the back and side pews first, leaving the front and middle pews for people who arrive late and guests who do not know where to sit.
4. Assuming that physical attendance is equivalent to heart-based worship.
5. Sitting in my pew looking at a stage being deceived to think that I am the audience, and I need to be pleased with the performance on stage.
6. Staring at guests in our assembly and not approaching them to welcome them.
7. Assuming someone else will volunteer for the task that needs to be done.
8. Expecting older people to take charge because they have all the experience.
9. Expecting young people to take charge because they have all the energy.
10. Keeping to my circles of close friends or family and not venturing out to get to know other spiritual family members.

It is human nature to fall into the rut of routine attendance at the downfall of heart-based expression of worship. It is easy to stay with the people I know and not venturing out to engage more members of the Body of Christ. It is easy to sit back and wait for others to take the lead. It is easy to fall into the snare of each silly things. I am not suggesting that these silly things are sinful, even though at certain times and in certain situations, they could be. Examine yourself and each of your routines to see if you have any silly habits that need to be altered or extracted from your life. Start creating habits today that will save you from headaches tomorrow!

THANK YOU

Thank you to everyone, that have reached out to me during my surgery and recovery time. I truly appreciate all the cards, calls, texts, and food, but especially the prayers.

In Christian Love, Jerry Trousdale

Thank you ,to everyone ,for all the many cards, calls, texts, visits, food, but mostly all the prayers said on our behalf, in the passing away of my dad, Alvin Cox. Your words of comfort really helped with the sorrow in our hearts. Please continue to keep us in your thoughts and prayer.

Nancy Cox and Family

MAYWOOD CAMP

Please keep all the youth and adults, that are leaving for camp today, in your thoughts and prayers. They will be gone all week.
